

OLSSI 2017 CLASS & INSTRUCTOR INFORMATION

Readers Advisory Roundtable

Kara Pennella, Ivy Tech Community College

Description: Share and hear about good reads.

Out of Sight and In Focus (or) Making Groovy Digital Images

Tanya Ellenburg-Kimmet, Wright State University

Description: Want to know some basic tips to make your photos groovy? Like... Did cosmic vibration make the image blurry or out of focus while the camera is still? Why did resizing the image make it look psychedelic? What's the hype with tif, jpg, or gif? Come to rap in class about earth-friendly photography and image design; learn to make smashing photo art. Bring your camera (optional/not needed) and your questions. Come get in the groove with a shutterbug while we work on our digital image karma.

Present like a Pro

Kristen Lindsay, Terra State Community College

Description: Get ready to shed your fear of speaking in public, and boost your confidence level, whether you are preparing to give a one-on-one library tour or a department-wide workshop. This session will engage you in proven strategies to help ease your anxiety and polish your presentation skills.

Putting your Student Workers to Work – Student Worker Series @ Franklin University

Aaron Oates, Franklin University

Description: Our student workers work hard for us, and we should do the same for them. Franklin University designed a workshop series to promote job readiness skills, and build professional development opportunities for our student employees. This session will discuss the outlets for development of monthly workshops and seminars designed to promote workplace skills, job readiness, inter-departmental connections, and discussions on how their current position can feed into their professional ones.

Privilege & Diversity

Paula Ashe

Description: This presentation will discuss the importance of inclusion and intersectionality in text selection for various types of libraries, archives, and collections.

Socially Responsible Options for Your Discards and Donations

David Ebrite, Better World Books

Description: No librarian wants to put their discards or donations into a landfill. Most want an environmentally-friendly and socially-responsible outlet for their surplus. Learn from David Ebrite, a rare and antiquarian book specialist who leads partnerships, media sales, and rare material sales for Better World Books, how they support literacy, libraries, and education with your surplus materials.

Forget the Kitchen Sink! Designing Focused, Patron-Centered, and Mobile-Friendly Research Guides.

Christopher Casey, Franklin University

Description: LibGuides is an online content creation package that allows all libraries to curate resources into research guides that best fit the needs of their patrons. Research guides can be a valuable resource, but they must be designed effectively. The goal of this session is to highlight the value of research guides, and also the best practices to use when creating online resources. These include not only the amount and type of content, but also layout and design, writing for the web, and being mobile-friendly. Making use of these standards will make guides more user-friendly and targeted to the patron's needs. While this session will focus on LibGuides, the information presented will be useful in regard to several aspects of web design.

Enhancing Your Catalog

Shelly Miller, OhioNET, & Misty Alvaro, Upper Arlington Public Library

Description: Elevate your catalog's consciousness with Misty and Shelly! Identify core versus enhanced info, discuss best practices, and discover the advantages of enhanced records. Explore simple tricks to make your records sparkle.

Simple Hands-On Book Binding

Miriam B. Kahn, founder of MBK Consulting

Description: When pamphlets fall apart, we often need to sew them back together. Children's books get the most wear, so we will sew or rebind a few thin books. Learn some basic binding techniques in this hands-on workshop.

Teamwork!

Miriam Matteson, Kent State University

Description: Teamwork – what teamwork SHOULD be like (best case scenarios), and then how to repair things when it doesn't quite go that way. We are always and forever going to have to work as teams, and a team can be a very effective way to get things done. But we all have team horror stories, too. So in this session we'll talk about the ideal, and then look at how to make the ideal happen more often than not. We will provide tips on how to avoid bad situations, and help on how to get out of one if things have gone too far or gotten out of hand.

Library Snapshot: Central State University's Hallie Q. Brown Memorial Library

TBD, Central State University

Description: Learn about the collections and services of our host campus's Library.

Library Snapshot: Miami University Libraries

Laura Birkenhauer, Miami University

Description: Take a peek into the unique collections, spaces, and services offered in the Miami University Libraries of Oxford, Ohio. This session highlights innovative technologies, and high-interest holdings.

Library Snapshot: Greene County Public Library

Deanna Ulvestad, Greene County Public Library

Description: Learn about GCPL and their special collections project.

Maps: Interpreting Current and Historical Resources

Miriam B. Kahn, founder of MBK Consulting

Description: For local history and genealogy lovers, maps are a rich, but sometimes overlooked source of information. They can paint a vivid picture, offer rich insights, and fascinating stories, if you know what to look for. We'll look.

Laughter Yoga

Michelle Fought, author of "Make Laughter Your Drug of Choice"

Description: Join Michelle and learn how to create a Big, Bold, Happy life! You'll experience a creative and playful way to decrease your stress! Laughter Yoga creates community by combining yoga breathing, stretching, and rhythmic clapping with laughter exercises. Laughter IS contagious, and has a powerful and immediate effect. Join the fun, and feel energetic and uplifted the rest of the day! Dress comfortably. Bring water. Yoga mat not required.*

O-H-I- Read! Opportunities for Exploring Ohio Literature

Janet Ingraham Dwyer, State Library of Ohio

Description: Ohio boasts a wealth of talented writers and illustrators who create books in all genres and for all ages. Learn about resources to help library staff, teachers, families, and individual readers explore, share, and celebrate Ohio literature.

Libraries and Summer Food, with Team Vittles/Chef Boyardee's Army

ILEAD Team (Gregg Gassman, State Library of Ohio, and Sarah Schaff, Denison University Library)

Description: What happens to kids who participate in the Free and Reduced Lunch program at school once summer comes along? Many of these kids fall through the cracks and end up hungry during those months. How can your library be a part of the solution? As participants in the ILEAD program (Innovative Librarians Explore, Apply, and Discover), our team is developing resources to make participation in the Summer Food Service Program easier and more effective.

3D Printer Introduction for your Library

Matt Motes, Serving Every Ohioan Library Center

Description: This course focuses on how 3D printers are affecting people now, as well as what we see for the future. This course will walk you through how to obtain free files to print, costs for 3D printed items, free design software options, as well as actual costs incurred when investing in a 3D printer.

Google Tools

Jennifer Hicks, Miami University – Middletown Regional Campus

Description: Learn the basics of several Google apps, including Gmail, Drive, Docs, Forms, and Calendar. These free Google productivity tools help sync, simplify, and tackle projects in and out of the library.

Closing Speaker – Ryan Ireland, author, Greene County Public Library

Description: The future and history of libraries – a motivational send off.